
Contents

Theodore Zev Weiss Foreword	ix
Sara R. Horowitz Introduction	xi
I. Wartime Sources of Interpretation
Gerhard L. Weinberg Another Look at Hitler and the Beginning of the Holocaust	5
Ana Antić Police Force Under Occupation: Serbian State Guard and Volunteers' Corps in the Holocaust	13
Gershon Greenberg Jewish Mystical Thought (Kabbalah) Through the Holocaust	37
Paul B. Jaskot "Realism"? The Place of Images in Holocaust Studies	68
II. Rethinking Testimony
Henry Greenspan Collaborative Interpretation of Survivors' Accounts: A Radical Challenge to Conventional Practice	91
Gary Weissman Incapable of Revealing the Event: Elie Wiesel and the Reading of Memoir-Writing	105

III. Victimhood, Identity, Practice

Cora Granata

Political Upheaval and Shifting Identities:
Holocaust Survivors in the Soviet Occupied
Zone of Germany, 1945–1949 123

Joanna Beata Michlic

The Aftermath and After: Memories of Child Survivors of the Holocaust 141

Valerie Hébert

From Nuremberg to Kigali: On the Necessity and Impossibility of Post-Atrocity Justice 190

IV. Art

Matthew Girson

Reflections, Traditions, and Representations from a
Painting Studio 213

Notes on Contributors 229