
Contents

Theodore Zev Weiss Foreword	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Alexandra Garbarini and Paul B. Jaskot Introduction: Integrated Histories of the Holocaust	3
I. Social Histories
Dana Smith Munich's Jewish Marionette Theater, Moses , and the Jewish Cultural League in Bavaria	13
Marion Kaplan Sites of Anxiety and Hope: Jewish Refugees in Lisbon, 1940–1945	36
Lutz Kaelber Jewish Children as Victims of “Euthanasia” in Nazi Germany	63
Hana Kubátová Accusing and Demanding: Denunciations in Wartime Slovakia	92
Martin Dean Jewish Survival in Forced Labor Camps for Jews: The Agricultural Camps in Czortków County of Eastern Galicia, 1942–1944	112

Jan Grabowski A Study in the Microhistory of the Holocaust: The Liquidierungsaktion in Węgrów Ghetto	141
II. Representation
Simone Gigliotti Home Seeking: Cinematic Geographies of Displacement in Meyer Levin's The Illegals	169
Pedro Correa Martín-Arroyo "Franco, Savior of the Jews"? Tracing the Genealogy of the Myth and Assessing Its Persistence in Recent Historiography	195
Jonathan Druker Tadeusz Borowski, Walter Benjamin, and the "Real State of Emergency"	219
Brad Prager Testimonial Performances on Screen: From the Eichmann Trial to Kitty: Return to Auschwitz	240
III. Theory
Gershon Greenberg Jewish Religious Thought of the Holocaust: Through the Lens of Metahistory and History	267
Lissa Skitolsky Rethinking the Existential Condition of the Sonderkommando	288
Dorota Glowacka Gender and the Holocaust: Relational Imagination in the Cul-de-Sacs of Remembrance	310
Notes on Contributors	335